कर्तव्य पथ

हार, अभी जीता नहीं
जीत की जिद में, अभी मैं हारा नहीं
उम्मीद से रिश्ता, अभी टूटा नहीं
जीत से नाता, अभी छूटा भी नहीं
अभी ना मानूंगा हार, अभी हारा भी नहीं
कदम-कदम कर्तव्य पथ पर, अभी रुका भी नहीं
आगे बढ़ूंगा नये सपने बुनूंगा, लड़ने से पीछे हटा भी नहीं
साहसी हूं पग न छोड़ूंगा, रुख हवाओ का मोड़ूंगा
नई डगर खोजूंगा, शुरुआत नई करूंगा
सपनों को साकार करूंगा, घुट-घुट कर जीना नहीं
अब एक क्षण भी रुकना नहीं, अब रोके भी न रुकूंगा
हार, अभी जीता नहीं,
जीत की जिद में, अभी मैं हारा नहीं ।

परिवार एक धूरी है

परिवार एक धूरी, आओ जाने क्यों है जरूरी
 परिवार एक धूरी है, जो सबके लिए जरूरी है।
 परिवार दरख्त की जड़ जैसा, छाव और सहारा है।
 जड़ों से जुड़े रहने पर ही तो ,दरख्त का अस्तित्व सारा है।।
 परिवार से अलग रखें ,नहीं ,ऐसी कोई मजबूरी है।
 परिवार एक धूरी है, जो सबके लिए जरूरी है।।
 खुशियो को रह जाता कोई मोल नहीं।
 जब परिवार का संग ,शोर गुल नहीं।
 बेशक रहो कहीं भी परिवार से ना रखना कोई दूरी है।
 परिवार एक धूरी है, जो सबके लिए जरूरी है।।
 आओ हम सब यह नैतिक जिम्मेदारी निभाएं।
 परिवार में संग रहने के लाभ गिनाएं।।
 टूटते परिवार को बचाएं, अपने घर के बुजुर्गों का आशीर्वाद पायें।
 छोटी-मोटी बातों को भूल कर परिवार के संग खुशियां मनाएं।।
 वे सबकुछ न्योछावर कर देते हैं परिवार की खुशियों के लिए।
 अब हमारी बारी है उनको वही स्नेह,प्रेम वापिस करने के लिये।।
 संग रहकर, समय देकर,वे अनमोल है हमारे लिए, उनको ये अहसास कराये।
 जागती आंखों में सपने सजाए,उनकी आंखों में खुशियों की चमक ले आए।।
 कहे रीबा,हैयह मुहिम छोड़ना नहीं अधूरी है।
 परिवार एक धूरी है जो सबके लिए जरूरी है।।

ENJOY-PRESENT LIFE

Don't leave anything for later.
 Later, the coffee gets cold.
 Later, you lose interest.
 Later, the day turns into night.
 Later, people grow up.
 Later, people grow old.
 Later, life goes by.
 Later, we regret not doing something...
 When we had the chance.

Life is a fleeting dance, a delicate balance of moments that unfold before us, never to return in quite the same way again.

Regret is a bitter pill to swallow, a weight that bears down upon the soul with the burden of missed chances and unspoken words.

So, let us not leave anything for later. Let us seize the moments as they come, with hearts open and arms outstretched to embrace the possibilities that lie before us. For in the end, it is not the things we did that we regret, but the things we left undone, the words left unspoken, the dreams left unfulfilled.

दोस्ती

सारे रिश्ते तो तेरा ही बनाया हुआ है, माँ बाप बहन भाई पति पत्नी बच्चे सब तेरा ही दिया हुआ है,

सिर्फ एक रिश्ता का हक मुझे दिया है, जिसका सिर्फ मैंने ही चयन किया हुआ है

जिसमें ना ईर्ष्या है, ना द्वेष है

ना कोई अलग रंग है, ना कोई भेष है

दिल से दिल का रिश्ता है, तभी तो इस इसका नाम दोस्ती दिया है।

हर हालत में साथ है, ना कभी भी कोई स्वार्थ है

हर पल तेरा हाथ है, तभी तो दोस्ती का अर्थ है

जिसमें मस्ती है, हँसना भी है, एक दूसरे के लिए संपर्ण भी दिया है

जिसमें ना कोई तुलना है, जिसने ना दिखावे का डर है।

ना कभी भी कोई मूल्यांकन है, ना हमेशा सही साबित करने का कर है।

बस एक दूसरे की परवाह है, इसीलिए दोनों ने हर दुख सुख का साँझा किया है।

सारे रिश्ते तो तेरा ही बनाया हुआ है, माँ बाप बहन भाई पति पत्नी बच्चे सब तेरा ही दिया हुआ है,

सिर्फ एक रिश्ता का हक मुझे दिया है, जिसका सिर्फ मैंने ही चयन किया हुआ है

"ECHOES OF AGONY: THE UNHEARD CRIES"

In a sterile room, where healing should reside,
Where hope was meant to blossom, side by side,
Her hands once gentle, full of life and grace,
Now cold, as shadows veil her peaceful face.

She came to heal, with knowledge in her hands,
To tend the wounds of those across these lands.
But cruelty, like a thief in the night,
Stole her dreams, snuffed out her light.

A place of healing turned to sorrow's door,
Where echoes of her laughter are no more.
Her voice, once strong, now whispers through the hall,
A silent cry, unanswered by us all.

What of the promise made to keep her safe?
What of the trust in those who now betray?
The one who swore an oath to guard the weak,
Was torn by the wolves and left to weep.

She was not just a healer, but a friend,
A sister, daughter-love that knew no end.
Now we stand with empty, aching hearts,
Wishing we could mend what tore apart.

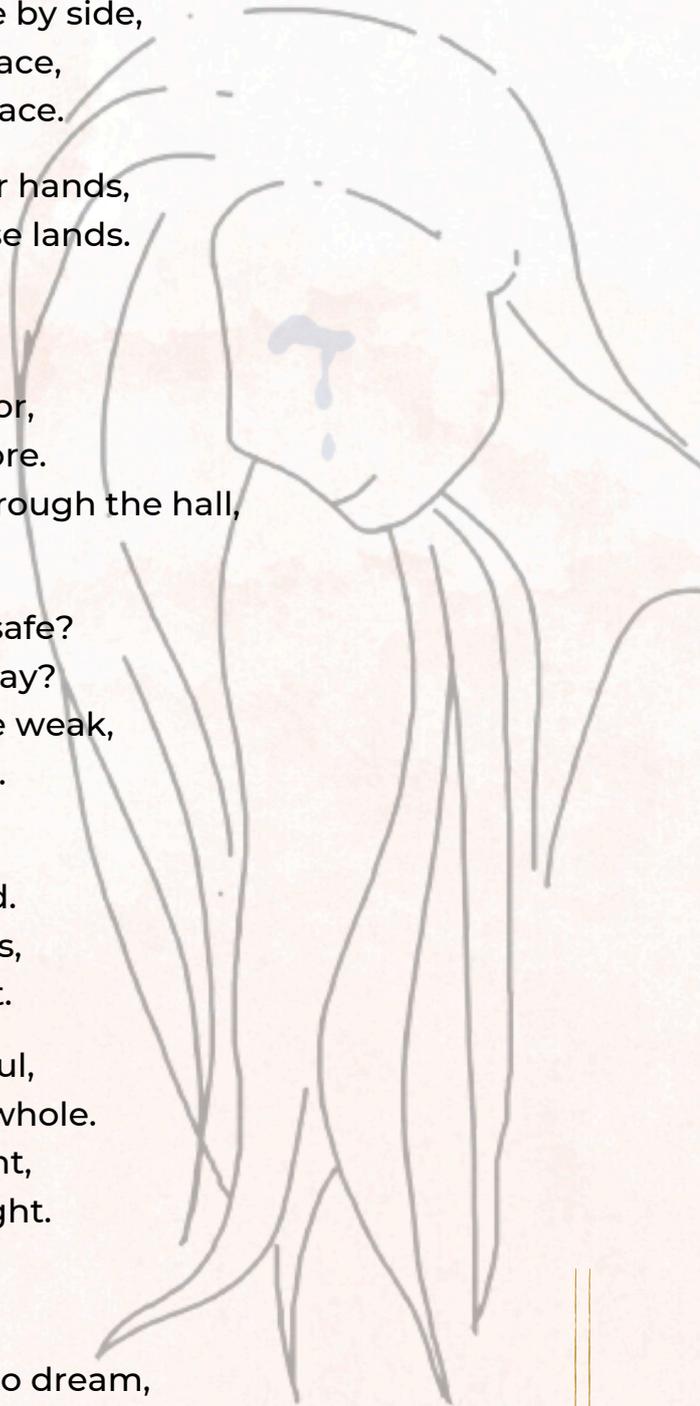

But justice cannot heal the shattered soul,
Nor bring her back, nor make her spirit whole.
Still, in her name, we rise and vow to fight,
To guard the flame, to honor her pure light.

May her memory be our guiding star,
A beacon in the darkness, near and far.
For every woman, every girl, who dares to dream,
We'll stand as one, a force - forever strong, supreme!

What Teachers were Like in Ancient India

Mr. Shubhra Atreya

IT Department

Let's just take a moment to recall our good old school and college days! Do we still vividly remember those few nice people moving around the classroom, writing words or drawing diagrams with chalk on the blackboard, explaining the complexities of Grammar or Math, always instructing what to do, and scolding or sometimes punishing for doing something wrong? Of course we do. In fact, we never forget the time we spent with them. They are like an inseparable part of our childhood and teenage memories. Next to our parents, perhaps none has such a profound influence on our lives as our teachers. Neither building nor equipment has such influence on us as our cultured and competent teachers have. Teachers in ancient India played a very crucial role in shaping students' lives, far more crucial than they do in modern times. It was the function of the teacher to lead the student from the darkness of ignorance to the light of knowledge.

अज्ञान तिमिरान्धस्य ज्ञानाञ्जन शलाकया ।
चक्षुरुन्मीलितं येन तस्मै श्री गुरवे नमः ॥

Salutations to that respected Guru by whom the eyes of one blinded by the darkness of ignorance are opened with a stick that applies the ointment of knowledge.

The teacher in ancient times was revered even more than parents – we owe our physical birth to the parents, and our intellectual regeneration to the teacher. Since the Vedic age the teacher has been all along designated as the spiritual and intellectual father of the student. Without his help and guidance, no education was possible. He was in fact indispensable. This is graphically illustrated by the story of Ekalavya, who when refused admission to the school by Drona, prepared an image of the teacher under whom he longed to learn, and successfully finished his studies in archery, under the inspiration that he received from the inanimate representation of his animate preceptor. Buddhists and Jains also attached equally great importance to the teacher.

The great importance attached to the teacher in ancient India is not difficult to understand. Since the earliest times the Vedic learning is being transmitted orally in India from one generation to another. This continued even when the art of writing came into general vogue. Great importance was attached to the proper accent and pronunciation in the Vedic recitation, and these could be properly learnt only from the lips of a well-qualified teacher. The continuous transmission of the store of the Vedic knowledge, which society regarded as priceless, was possible only through the instrumentality of the teacher. With the rise of the mystical systems of philosophy in the age of the Upanishada, the reverence for the Guru became still more intensified.

In the pre-historic period, the family was the only educational agency. As education began to become more and more complex and exacting, the specialist came into the field in the form of the private teacher. Organized educational institutions, like Nalanda University, came into existence in ancient India rather late in the history. Education was for a long time imparted by private teachers on their own responsibility. Each learned teacher was thus an educational institution by himself. Celebrated teachers like Valmiki, Kanva, Sandipani, etc. had made arrangements in their Ashrama to teach hundreds of students.

The Gurukula system, which necessitated the stay of the student away from his home at the house of a teacher, was one of the most important features of ancient Indian education. Smriti recommends that the student should begin to live under the supervision of his teacher after his Upanayana. Ancient literature contains several stories like that of Krishna showing that students were being actually sent to reside with their preceptors. Contact with a teacher of noble character would naturally produce great effect on the mind of the scholar during the pliable period of age.

The importance which in modern times is attached to the institution or the Alma Mater was in ancient days attached to the teacher in India. The relations between the teacher and the student were therefore direct and not through any institution. The student usually went to such a teacher who attracted his attention by his reputation for character and scholarship; the teacher selected such students who appeared to him sincere, zealous and well-behaved. The student usually lived either under the roof of the teacher or under his direct supervision. The teacher not only did not demand any fee but also helped the poor students in getting food or clothing. He even nursed him if he was ill. The student naturally lived as a member of the household of the teacher and helped him in doing the household work if necessary. Under such circumstances in ancient times, the relations between the teacher and the student were very cordial and intimate.
