Objectivity of Activity: - The objective of the activity is to facilitate a deep understanding and practical application of core human values in various aspects of life. Through interactive discussions, reflective exercises, and real-life case studies, participants will gain insights into the importance of values such as honesty, integrity, respect, and compassion. The activity aims to enhance participants' ability to recognize ethical dilemmas, make value-based decisions, and foster a values-driven mindset. By the end of the activity, participants should be equipped with the tools and perspectives necessary to integrate human values into their personal, professional, and social interactions, ultimately promoting a more ethical and compassionate society.

Description of activity: - The activity is designed as an engaging and interactive workshop where participants explore the concept of human values through a combination of discussions, group work, and reflective exercises. It begins with a brief introduction to human values, their definitions, and their significance. Participants will then engage in small group discussions to share personal experiences and perspectives on core values such as honesty, integrity, and respect. Real-life case studies and ethical dilemmas will be presented to the groups, prompting them to analyze situations and propose value-based solutions. Reflective exercises will encourage participants to examine their own values and how they influence their behavior and decisions. The analysis of participants' feedback from the activity revealed several positive outcomes and areas for improvement. Most participants reported a significantly enhanced understanding of core human values and expressed appreciation for the interactive nature of the workshop, which allowed for engaging discussions and practical application of concepts. Many highlighted the case studies and ethical dilemmas as particularly effective in illustrating the real-world relevance of values-based decision-making. Participants also valued the reflective exercises, noting that these activities increased their self-awareness and personal commitment to upholding human values. However, some feedback suggested a need for more time dedicated to group discussions and a desire for additional examples from diverse cultural contexts. Overall, the feedback indicated that the activity was successful in achieving its objectives and provided valuable insights for future iterations to further enhance its impact and inclusivity.

Human values

Our values inform our thoughts, words, and actions. Our values are important because they help us to grow and develop. They help us to create the future we want to experience.

Every individual and every organization are involved in making hundreds of decisions every day. The decisions we make are a reflection of our values and beliefs, and they are always directed towards a specific purpose. That purpose is the satisfaction of our individual or collective (organizational) needs.

When we use our values to make decisions, we make a deliberate choice to focus on what is important to us. When values are shared, they build internal cohesion in a group.

Students learn about importance of human values in the professional life, which help them to improve the quality of working environment in the organization, held on 02/12/2022 by Mr. Vishal Kumar

Human values

Our values inform our thoughts, words, and actions. Our values are important because they help us to grow and develop. They help us to create the future we want to experience.

Every individual and every organization are involved in making hundreds of decisions every day. The decisions we make are a reflection of our values and beliefs, and they are always directed towards a specific purpose. That purpose is the satisfaction of our individual or collective (organizational) needs.

When we use our values to make decisions, we make a deliberate choice to focus on what is important to us. When values are shared, they build internal cohesion in a group.

Students learn about importance of human values in the professional life, which help them to improve the quality of working environment in the organization, held on 27/05/2022 by DR. RUPESH K. PANDEY

KEY HIGHLIGHTS

Session 1

The first session started with a brief introduction by Vijay Gaur, the organizer, who called the patron of the event Rajendra Dhar, to welcome esteemed speakers.

Justice and Additional Secretary, Delhi State Legal Services Authority, Namrita Aggarwal, elaborated on the important role of the State Legal Services Authority across the country in the protection of women's rights. She said that it provides free legal aid to the victim of acid attack and the services of free advocacy at the expense of the authority as and when required.

At the same time, an attempt is made to connect the victim's emotional attachment to life and to mainstream with society through psychological counselling. She informed that one lakh rupees is given as interim assistance by the Authority to the victim within 15 days on application by the acid attack victim, her family member or head of police station or as and when coming to the notice of the authority so that immediate treatment can be provided. Then, in the next two months, two lakh rupees more is given.

Justice and Member Secretary, Madhya Pradesh State Legal Services Authority, Giri Bala Singh Highlighted the Women's Rights Awareness Campaign in 181 villages adopted by the Authority and also appealed for rehabilitation of acid attack victims and linking them to the mainstream of society. In the presidential address to the inaugural session, Justice Rumi Fukun, Judge, Gauhati High Court, stressed that being a sensitive citizen of democratic society, there is need for everyone's contribution to help acid attack victims.

Justice Indira Banerjee, Judge Supreme Court stated that the crime of acid Attack is horrendous in nature. She emphasised on the awareness and empathy being sustained at the very inception of educational curriculum. And students should be taught to not make fun of acid-attack victims. She also laid stress on the legal provisions available in the name of Section 326A and B of the Indian Penal Code, 1860, and the existence of victim compensation scheme under Section 357A & C of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973.

Vijay Gaur, well-known social activist and General Secretary, Bhagidari Jan Sahyog Samiti, said that acid burns not only the face of the victim but also the soul of human beings. In such a situation, it is true worship of God to become a means of connecting the victim with the mainstream of society

In the welcome address at the technical session, Vice Chancellor Guru Gobind Singh Indraprastha University expressed gratitude to all the guests of the session and said that terrible crimes like acid attack should have no place in civilised society.

Referring to the fact that the acid attack originated in social snobbery and patriarchal mindset, Justice and Secretary, Delhi State Legal Services Authority, Kanwaljeet Arora said that these attacks prove that the accused sees women at the lower position as compared to the male counterpart. Such a mindset needs to be changed as it completely shatters the identity of the victim and at the same time, harasses the victim in other ways by the society.

Preeti Bhardwaj Dalal, Chairperson, Haryana State Commission for Women, while explaining the spirit of the courageous acid attack victim through poetry, elaborated on the awareness efforts of the Commission on the rights of women in villages and said that nowadays acid is thrown not only on the body but also forced through the mouth for which a separate law needs to be added as such crime has not been included in the legal provisions of acid attack.

Highlighting the important role of the media in the public awareness campaign, Director General (Doordarshan) Mayank Agarwal said that Doordarshan is organizing several programmes for women empowerment at the state and national level and in the next episode of Mera Haq, a women empowerment show will focus on acid attack survivors. He said there is a need to share the story and efforts of acid attack survivors so that they can be exposed in the media and linked to the mainstream.

Aishwarya Bhati Addl. Solicitor General, Supreme Court of India, said that after the Nirbhaya incident, there has been public awareness like a tsunami and people have started demanding zero tolerance for acid attack against women.

She highlighted the Act amendment and said that cases like acid attack are the cause of male supremacy in conservative society and unequal distribution of power between men and women. Today, such mindset needs to be changed and a long battle needs to be fought for the rights and awareness of women.

Chief Guest, Justice Gyan Sudha Mishra, Judge (Retd.) Supreme Court of India, emphasizing on moral education, said that the State Legal Services Authority should provide legal education and also the boys and girls need to be more morally strong. Girls have to be aware that if they are in relation with a boy who is criminal, the relationship needs to be discontinued immediately. She said that we have to think and share measures to prevent crimes like acid attacks so that such incidents do not recur.

Speaking on the occasion, Vice Chancellor Prof. Dr. V.P. Singh, Swami Vivekanand Subharti University, Uttar Pradesh, acknowledged the important role of public awareness in acid attack prevention.

Report On Importance of Guru and Shishya System in Journalism

A special lecture and talk on the topic 'Importance of Guru and Shishya System in Journalism' was organized by the Literature Club of Ganesh Shankar Vidyarthi Subharti college of Journalism and Mass Communication, Swami Vivekananda Subharti University on Tuesday.

The Dean and Principal of the college Dr. Neeraj Karan Singh addressed the students. He explained the importance of journalism and Guru.

Accepting the imperative of Guru's guidance, he said that human life cannot be controlled only by Atma Shakti, an energy is needed to realize Atma Shakti, that energy is the Guru. While propounding the importance of dialogue in his speech, he said that life could be easy with the proper communication.

In this discussion Prof. Ashok Tyagi defined journalism and said that it is a subtle consciousness which is capable of influencing the conduct of human beings. He also said that the utility of a guru in journalism remains every moment.

Experimentalism is key in journalism. Therefore, there is a constant need for the guidance of a guru, even if that guru is a senior associate of the media.

Ms. Preeti Singh conducted the program successfully and expressing her views. She said that no journalist can achieve excellence without a guru. Guru has importance in every sphere of life.

Dr. Gunjan Sharma and Mrs. Beenum Yadav had the cooperation in making the program a success. Total 40 students of the college participated in this program through google meet.

A Foundation courseIn*Universal Human Values and Professional Ethics*Universal Human Values and Professional Ethics*[L-T-P: 3-0-0]*Course Objectives

This introductory course input is intended

1. To help the students appreciate the essential complementarity between 'VALUES' and 'SKILLS' to ensure sustained happiness and prosperity, which are the core aspirations of all human beings
2. To facilitate the development of a Holistic perspective among students towards life and profession as well as towards happiness and prosperity based on a correct understanding of the Human reality and the rest of Existence. Such a holistic perspective forms the basis of Universal Human Values and movement towards value-based living in a natural way
3. To highlight plausible implications of such a Holistic understanding in terms of ethical human conduct, trustful and mutually fulfilling human behavior and mutually enriching interaction with Nature

Thus, this course is intended to provide a much needed orientational input in value education to the young enquiring minds.

Course Methodology

1. The methodology of this course is explorational and thus universally adaptable. It involves a systematic and rational study of the human being vis-à-vis the rest of existence.
2. It is free from any dogma or value prescriptions.
3. It is a process of self-investigation and self-exploration, and not of giving sermons. Whatever is found as truth or reality is stated as a proposal and the students are facilitated to verify it in their own right, based on their Natural Acceptance and subsequent Experiential Validation.
4. This process of self-exploration takes the form of a dialogue between the teacher and the students to begin with, and then to continue within the student leading to continuous self-evolution.
5. This self-exploration also enables them to critically evaluate their pre-conditionings and present beliefs.

Course Syllabus: Universal Human Values and Professional Ethics [L-T-P: 3-0-0]

The whole course is divided into 5 modules.

UNIT 1: Course Introduction - Need, Basic Guidelines, Content and Process for Value Education

PS 1: Introduce yourself in detail. What are the goals in your life? How do you set your goals in your life? How do you differentiate between right and wrong? What have been your achievements and shortcomings in your life? Observe and analyze them.

Expected outcome: the students start exploring themselves; get comfortable to each other and to the teacher and start finding the need and relevance for the course.

PS 2: Now-a-days, there is a lot of voice about many techno-genic maladies such as energy and natural resource depletion, environmental pollution, global warming, ozone depletion, deforestation, soil degradation, etc. – all these seem to be man-made problems threatening the survival of life on Earth – What is the root cause of these maladies & what is the way out in your opinion?

On the other hand, there is rapidly growing danger because of nuclear proliferation, arms race, terrorism, criminalization of politics, large scale corruption, scams, breakdown of relationships, generation gap, depression & suicidal attempts, etc – what do you think, is the root cause of these threats to human happiness and peace – what could be the way out in your opinion?

Expected outcome: the students start finding that technical education without study of human values can generate more problems than solutions. They also start feeling that lack of understanding of human values is the root cause of all problems and the sustained solution could emerge only through understanding of human values and value based living. Any solution brought out through fear, temptation or dogma will not be sustainable.

PS 3:

1. Observe that each one of us has Natural Acceptance, based on which one can verify right or not right for him. Verify this in case of

i) What is Naturally Acceptable to you in relationship- Feeling of respect or disrespect?

of 'I' while the activities they do with their sense organs like hearing through ears, seeing through eyes, sensing through touch, tasting through tongue and smelling through nose or the activities they do with their work organs like hands, legs etc. are such activities that require the participation of both 'I' and body.

3. The students become aware of their activities of 'I' and start finding their focus of attention at different moments. Also they are able to see that most of their desires are coming from outside (through preconditioning or sensation) and are not based on their natural acceptance.

PS 6:

1. Chalk out programs to ensure that you are responsible to your body- for the nurturing, protection and right utilisation of the body.
2. Find out the plants and shrubs growing in and around your campus. Find out their use for curing different diseases.

Expected outcome: The students are able to list down activities related to proper upkeep of the body and practice them in their daily routine. They are also able to appreciate the plants wildly growing in and around the campus which can be beneficial in curing different diseases.

UNIT 3: Understanding Harmony in the Family and Society- Harmony in Human-Human Relationship

PS 7: Form small groups in the class and in that group initiate dialogue and ask the eight questions related to trust. The eight questions are :

- 1a. Do I want to make myself happy?
- 2a. Do I want to make the other happy?
- 3a. Does the other want to make him happy?
- 4a. Does the other want to make me happy?

What is the answer?

Intention (Natural Acceptance)

- 1b. Am I able to make myself always happy?
- 2b. Am I able to make the other always happy?
- 3b. Is the other able to make him always happy?
- 4b. Is the other able to make me always happy?

What is the answer?

Competence

Let each student answer the questions for himself and everyone else. Discuss the difference between intention and competence. Observe whether you evaluate your intention & competence as well as the others' intention & competence.

 DIRECTOR
 Swami Vivekanand Subharti University
 Meerut

Expected outcome: The students are able to see that the first four questions are related to our Natural Acceptance i.e. Intention and the next four to our Competence. They are able to note that the intention is always correct, only competence is lacking! We generally evaluate ourselves on the basis of our intention and others on the basis of their competence! We seldom look at our competence and others' intention as a result we conclude that I am a good person and other is a bad person.

PS 8:

1. Observe on how many occasions you are respecting your related ones (by doing the right evaluation) and on how many occasions you are disrespecting by way of under-evaluation, over-evaluation or otherwise evaluation.
2. Also observe whether your feeling of respect is based on treating the other as yourself or on differentiations based on body, physical facilities or beliefs.

Expected outcome: The students are able to see that respect is right evaluation, and only right evaluation leads to fulfillment in relationship. Many present problems in the society are an outcome of differentiation (lack of understanding of respect), like gender biasness, generation gap, caste conflicts, class struggle, dominations through power play, communal violence, clash of isms, and so on so forth. All these problems can be solved by realizing that the other is like me as he has the same natural acceptance, potential and program to ensure a happy and prosperous life for him and for others though he may have different body, physical facilities or beliefs.

PS 9:

1. Write a note in the form of story, poem, skit, essay, narration, dialogue to educate a child. Evaluate it in a group.
2. Develop three chapters to introduce 'social science- its need, scope and content' in the primary education of children

Expected outcome: The students are able to use their creativity for educating children. The students are able to see that they can play a role in providing value education for children. They are able to put in simple words the issues that are essential to understand for children and comprehensible to them. The students are able to develop an outline of holistic model for social science and compare it with the existing model.

Module 4: Understanding Harmony in the Nature and Existence - Whole existence as Co-existence

PS 10: List down units (things) around you. Classify them in four orders. Observe and explain the mutual fulfillment of each unit with other orders.

Expected outcome: The students are able to differentiate between the characteristics and activities of different orders and study the mutual fulfillment among them. They are also able to see that human beings are not fulfilling to other orders today and need to take appropriate steps to ensure right participation (in terms of nurturing, protection and right utilization) in the nature.

PS 11:

1. Make a chart for the whole existence. List down different courses of studies and relate them to different units or levels in the existence.
2. Choose any one subject being taught today. Evaluate it and suggest suitable modifications to make it appropriate and holistic.

OBJECTIVE:

To equip the students with Human values

REPORT

Two hour workshop on “Human Values” was conducted on 15.11.2019 for students. It was delivered by Dr. Shashi Bala Department of Chemistry & Dr. Jitendra Kumar, Department of Mathematics; it aims at Knowledge (right understanding) in the self, Love (feeling of being related to all) in thought and Compassion (the expression of the responsibility of being related to all) in behaviour & work. The feeling of relatedness that naturally expands from family to world family is the underlying mindset for an integrated or undivided society. Living in order starts with family order and naturally expands to living order in a group of families and onwards right up to world family order, which is the basis for universal human order. This workshop provides the essential guidelines for and develops commitment for a humane society.

Students during workshop on Human Values
