Report on Lab session on "Critical analysis of Drug promotional literature"

A lab session was held on 27/7/2021 on "CRITICAL ANALYSIS OF DRUG PROMOTIONAL LITERATURE" in which 87 students of MBBS 2019 batch participated.

It was taken by Dr Rajeev Ranjan Sharma along with tutors.

The promotional literature provided by the pharmaceutical companies cannot be entirely relied upon. Promotional materials may focus only on the positive points and hide the negative one. Hence the critical analysis of drug promotional literature plays an important role in practice of evidence-based medicine.

All the participants presented their contentions very well. Some highlighted how political parties are making fool of people by grabbing votes in the name of caste and religion, where on the other hand, some made wonderful arguments as how interference of caste and religion can help promoting the rights of downtrodden and subjugated in political history and made people re-evaluate their opinion.

Overall, the arguments placed were fascinating and captivating. The event became more thought-provoking by the questions put up by the respective judges.

The Debate Competition was attended by all the faculty members and students along with various participants across the Country.
