NOTICE

(Inclusion of Bloom's Taxonomy in Questions Paper)

All question paper setters are hereby informed to incorporate various levels of Bloom's Taxonomy while designing question papers for sessional and university examinations. Please ensure that questions reflect a balanced distribution across the Cognitive Domain (ranging from Remembering to Creating) and Affective Domain (including aspects such as Receiving, Responding, and Valuing).

To enhance the assessment of Affective Domains, it is recommended to include case studies, ethical dilemmas, or real-life application-based questions that encourage students to engage in critical thinking, reflection, and value-based decision-making.

Moderation Committee is required to review each questions paper meticulously.

Kindly make every effort to integrate the maximum possible levels from both domains to ensure a holistic evaluation of student learning outcomes.
