Findings of the Seminar:

Following Common challenges in implementation of NEP 2020 were found:-

1. For the new education policy, the government will spend 6% of GDP on education. The situation has not been clear on how the government will arrange for such a huge amount for the expenditure.
2. Problem regarding mother tongue - for example, in a union territory like Delhi, people from different states of the country live, in such a situation it is not possible to learn different mother tongues in the same school.
3. A challenge for the government will also be that at present, commercialization and privatization have taken the education sector in its grip.
4. A significant challenge relates to the lack of infrastructure. It is commonly observed that schools and universities have a lack of electricity, water, toilets, boundary walls, libraries, computers, and other physical facilities etc., as a result of which the education system is affected.

5. The breadth and diversity of India's education sector due to cultural, social and economical diversity.
6. Welfare activities of the country are going on with public and private sector partnership. It is a big challenge to implement the National Education Policy 2020 in the private body, especially in higher education.
7. Challenges related to curriculum implementation at grass root level.
8. Challenges related to transparent evaluation systems at every level of education.
9. The education of India is included in the Concurrent List; the central government has prepared the National Education Policy 2020 but the states have to do the analysis and implement the NEP 2020.

Following Common Resolutions are-

1. To face the challenges, all the stakeholders related to education will have to make joint efforts.
2. Education policy will have to be implemented from the grass-root level and a strong strategy will have to be made for the implementation.
3. Need analysis of stakeholders from local level is a primary condition for the successful implementation of NEP 2020.

Outcome of the National seminar:

1. Awareness was generated about the challenges in the implementation of NEP 2020
2. Awareness was generated about the resolutions for the challenges in the implementation of NEP 2020
3. Participants Learned about NEP 2020 in detail, Challenges will be faced during implementation of NEP 2020, and its resolutions also, Teacher's new roles as per NEP 2020, challenges will come in practically implementing the provisions made in the new education. Policy and how we can solve them. how can we make all-round development of children by using these provisions, Different aspects to improve education system, The importance of NEP 2020, its objectives, points regarding its implementation, The present policy has enough provisions for the betterment of the current education system of the country, the need is the best efforts from the stakeholders to make it successful, Got a lot of information and knowledge related to the NEW EDUCATION POLICY 2020

Analysis of the Participant's feedback:

1. The National Seminar was considered educative and informative by the participants.
2. The topic was considered appropriate with adequate quality of content and time management.
3. The participants found that the content had practical utility.

Report Prepared by	Mr. Ajay Raj Singh, Assistant Professor, Faculty of Law

Objective of the Activity:-

The objective of the workshop was to enhance an educator's ability to use Bloom's taxonomy and to support students' higher-order thinking by starting with lower-level cognitive abilities. For the purpose of demonstrating how Bloom's taxonomy can be incorporated into more comprehensive educational objectives, behavioral and cognitive learning outcomes. Additionally, the workshop's goal was to improve evaluation methods by using question papers and the Bloom's Taxonomy.

Focused Area:-

The workshop's main area of concentration was education using Bloom's Taxonomy. The workshop was held to introduce the faculty to the outcome-based evaluation approach and to create test questions that complied with Bloom's taxonomy. The standard of an educational system's assessment procedures has a stronger impact on its quality. Evidently, the curriculum and the learning experience should keep up with the level of evaluation standards when assessment requirements are set at a higher level of learning. As a result, it is accurate to say that assessment fuels student learning.

Description:-

The Sardar Patel Subharti Institute of Law organized a one-day workshop on June 22, 2023 with the theme "Enhancing Question Paper Evaluation and Outcome: A Comprehensive Examination Using Bloom's Taxonomy". Prof. (Dr.) Viabhav Goel Bhartiya, Dean of the Faculty of Law at S.V. Subharti University, Meerut, welcomed everyone and provided an overview of the workshop. He discussed the reality of the teaching-learning process and commented on the rapid transition from conventional classroom instruction to outcome-based instruction. According to him, this taxonomy can help teachers by giving a hierarchy of levels, which they can use to construct performance assignments, create discussion topics for. As a special invitee to the workshop, Dr. Neeta Panwar, Director of IQAC SV Subharti University, Meerut, attended. During the workshop, Ajay Raj Singh, an assistant professor at the Sardar Patel Subharti Institute of Law, discussed the domains of Bloom's Taxonomy, specifically the cognitive, affective, and psychomotor domains. He provided a thorough comparison of the old Bloom's

- ❖ To evaluate the success of educational objectives and teaching and learning strategies with an eye towards ongoing advancements that will make education dynamic and self-improving.

Description:

Under the quality initiative, Train the Trainees a Lecture Series II was on the topic of "Teaching-Learning and Evaluation: As it has evolved in the Era of Digital Transformation" was organized by the Internal Quality Cell Assurance (IQAC), Swami Vivekanand Subharti University, Meerut. Dr. Neetu Panwar, Director of IQAC, commenced the programme by giving a brief introduction of the programme of the esteemed speaker Dr. Nikhil Srivastava, Dean & Principal, Faculty of Dental Sciences, Swami Vivekanand Subharti University, Meerut and all the participants.

With the following, the welcome note of the programme was given by Dr. Neetu Panwar, Director IQAC along with the small discussion of the feedback form status assimilated from the previous Lecturette Series. Our Eminent Speaker was requested to commence the session and he started with a very beautiful quote. First, he defined the importance for the conduction of this programme i.e. why the training is being required for the teachers. He further added the different teaching methodology which can be used by the faculty members in the classroom teaching like teacher controlled, interactive controlled, learning controlled, group controlled, clinical controlled.

He highlighted some viewpoints from his teaching experiences that a lecture must be of 45 minutes and remaining 15 mins should be considered for question & answering session with the students so that their doubts can be clarified. He emphasized that the purpose of teaching is to make the student learn and for a teacher it is important that the issues related to the subjects should be identified and corrected accordingly for the better understanding of the student.

He also talked about the different events of learning such as Motivation, Apprehending, Acquisition, Recall, Generalization, Feedback and Assessment. Among the few types of learning, the best one was credited to Experiential Learning which means learning by doing. He explained that if a student learns something and tries to apply it by his or her actions then it increases more chances that the student has fully understood it. The different tools of assessment were also discussed along with the importance of the feedback session.

In the end, he concluded by giving a brief scenario of the education system has transformed digitally for the students as well as teachers.

Outcome of the Activity:

The outcome of organizing the Lecturette Series has completely fulfilled to:

- ❖ Describe the measurable skills, abilities, knowledge or values that students are able to demonstrate as result of a completing a course.
- ❖ Develop the lectures student centered rather than teacher centered approach in which students should be guided the task to be performed.
- ❖ Emphasize the integration of knowledge instead of focusing on coverage of material which can easily be comprehended by the students.

Analysis of Participant's Feedback:

There were a total of 26 participants in this session, and total 19 responses were received. The majority of participants said that the speaker's overall delivery of the content was excellent, and they are looking forward for more such informative sessions in future. The delivery of the content and the overall experience of the participants were satisfactory. Some questions were also attached on the feedback form for which were related to the session. The participants have scored good marks which showed that they truly understood the content delivered by the speaker.

Outcome of the Study:

According to the analysis of our study, the speaker has succeeded in fulfilling the theme of the session with his great knowledge on the same. The delivery of the content and the overall experience of the participants were satisfactory. Some questions were also attached on the feedback form for evaluation and around nineteen participants have answered the questions which were related to the session. The participants have scored good marks which showed that they truly understand the content delivered by the speaker.

Suggestions:

- This kind of Lecturette series should be organized more frequently.
- Need more programme to be conducted on role Leadership to ensure the quality outcomes

- To organize workshop on the how to enhance our Administrative Skills and Office Maintenance.

REPORT ON LECTURETTE SERIES

Title of the Activity	Outcome Based Learning Approach in Higher Education: Are we practicing?	Level of Program (State/National/International etc.)	In-house
Focused Area	Training and Learning	Date of Activity	24 th June, 2023
Activity Organized By	Internal Quality Assurance Cell	Day	Saturday
Name of the Associated Faculty/College/Department/Outside Agency	None	Time	1.00 pm onwards
Name and address of Guest Speaker	Prof.(Dr.) Sokindra Kumar, Dean, Faculty of Pharmacy, Swami Vivekanand Subharti University, Meerut	Venue	University Conference Room
Total Participants		Organizing Coordinator(s)	IQAC
Non-Teaching Staff	Not Applicable

Objective of the Activity:

- It focuses on measuring student performance through outcomes.
- To provide educators with feedback and information on the success of the teaching and learning techniques.
- To focus on clear understanding of the ultimate result to achieve for both students and teachers.

Description:

Under the quality initiative, Train the Trainees a Lecture Series on the topic of " Outcome Based Learning Approach in Higher Education: Are we practicing?" was organized by the Internal Quality Cell Assurance (IQAC), Swami Vivekanand Subharti University, Meerut. Ms. Shruti Singh, IQAC Coordinator commenced the programme by giving a brief introduction of the programme of the esteemed speaker Prof. (Dr.) Sokindra Kumar, Dean, Faculty of Pharmacy and all the participants.

The primary emphasis was made on the student-centric teaching and learning methodology in which the course delivery, assessment are planned to achieve stated objectives and outcomes. He highlighted OBE has proven to be a success in helping institutions measure their learning outcomes and at the same time enabling students to develop new skills that prepare them to stand out with their global counterparts.

The different OBE model measures the progress of graduates in three parameters, through Course Outcome (CO), Program Outcome (PO) & Program Educational Outcome (PEO). He made prominence on different objectives of Program Outcomes, course Outcomes and Program Educational Outcome and the various key elements of effective learning experience were discussed. The major relationship between assessment and learning were also elaborate by him by pointing out three main parameters like: Assessment for Learning, Assessment of Learning & Assessment as Learning.

The Bloom Taxonomy basic and advance structure was also discussed. The different elements of effective learning outcomes long with the assessment and evaluation methods and techniques were also discussed. He concluded the session by listing some important challenges related to the inability of the learner to establish the logic between the learning outcomes and inability of the students to engage themselves actively in the learning process.

Outcome of the Activity:

The outcome of organizing the Lecturette Series has completely fulfilled to:

- To present the knowledge and skills to the new generation of students and to provide students with a learning environment.
- It will create a clear expectation of what needs to be accomplished by the end of course.
- Students are expected to do their own learning so that they will gain a full understanding of the material.

Analysis of Participant's Feedback:

According to statistics, it is stated that majority of participants agreed that the lecture was delivered well. Many were able to connect with the topic covered by the speaker. The participants were satisfied with the content of the lectures delivered by the speakers. Approximately 92.3% of participants were so delighted with the informative workshop that they are interested in recommending it to others.

Outcome of the Study:

According to the analysis of our study, the speaker has succeeded in fulfilling the theme of the session with his great knowledge on the same. The delivery of the content and the overall experience of the participants were satisfactory. Some questions were also attached on the feedback form for evaluation and around thirteen participants have answered the questions which were related to the session. The participants have scored good marks which showed that they truly understand the content delivered by the speaker.

Suggestions:

Few recommendations were made during the session:

- More emphasis should be drawn on designing an effective Outcome Based Education.
- It was advised that chapter wise module should be made for better understanding of the faculty members.
- Faculty should be well aware of all the domains of OBE and workshops should be conducted to make them understand well.
- A blue print should be prepared while making the question paper according to Co-Po outcomes stated which could be forwarded to the evaluator for checking the papers.

Description:

Under the quality initiative, Train the Trainees a Lecture Series on the topic of "Communication and its Importance in Mentor-Mentee Relationships" was organized by the Internal Quality Cell Assurance (IQAC), Swami Vivekanand Subharti University, Meerut. Dr. Neetu Panwar, Director of IQAC, commenced the programme by giving a brief introduction of the programme of the esteemed speaker Hon'ble Vice Chancellor Maj. Gen (Dr.) G.K Thapliyal, and all the participants.

With the following, the welcome note of the programme was given by Dr. Neetu Panwar, Director IQAC. Our Hon'ble Vice Chancellor Maj. Gen (Dr.) G.K Thapliyal was requested to keynote the beginning lecture session. The primary emphasis was made on the proper channelizing of communication plays a vital role in all levels of education system. He highlighted the primary goals of mentoring as being both professional and personal development. The different types of mentoring objectives were discussed which will help to foster the mentor-mentee relationship.

He made emphasis on different skills to be developed for becoming a mentor like communication skills, team orientated skills, leadership skills, critical thinking skills, creativity skills and many more. Similarly, he highlighted the different skills to be required for mentee such as training required, strengths, and career persuade etc. The communication plays an important role in building the relationship of Mentor-Mentee. The process of communication was also discussed by him following with the six main components of communication. At the end of the communication process, he focused on how the feedback plays a vital role to improve any negative components which are found in the whole procedure and hinders the growth of the organization.

He further added the concept of understanding of Human Interaction which can be further divided into three egos:-Child Ego State, Parent Ego State, and Adult Ego State which should be used at right place and at right time. The characteristics of true adulthood were also discussed in the session.

He sums up the session by discussing the basic qualities of a good communicator. It is important to know these different aspects which will build a remarkable mentee mentor relationship for the growth of oneself as well as for the organization. The vote of appreciation was presented by Dr. Neetu Panwar, Director of IQAC. She further added that it was mandatory to fill up the feedback form which can be useful for the upcoming sessions.

Outcome of the Activity:

The outcome of organizing the Lecturette Series has completely fulfilled to:

- ❖ Create a collaborative environment amongst all the mentors and mentee while aptly establishing network of transparency both in academic and administrative matters
 - ❖ Develop the foundation of lifelong learning and ethical conduct and behavior in all aspects of larger life through the dissemination of knowledge compounded with positive motivation , morale boosting and sense of community acceptance
 - ❖ Familiarize a greater culture of the University to all the aspiring students and instill the realization of potential success through accomplishment of the goals of the students.

Outcome of the Study:

According to the analysis of our study, the speaker has succeeded in fulfilling the theme of the session with his great knowledge on the same. The delivery of the content and the overall experience of the participants were satisfactory. Some questions were also attached on the feedback form for evaluation and around sixteen participants have answered the questions which were related to the session. The participants have scored good marks which showed that they truly understand the content delivered by the speaker.

Suggestions:

- This kind of Lecturette series should be organized more frequently.
- Need more programme to be conducted on role Leadership to ensure the quality outcomes
- To organize workshop on the how to enhance our Administrative Skills and Office Maintenance
- To initiate some more programmes on good leadership qualities.

Description:

Under the quality initiative, Train the Trainees a Lecture Series V was on the topic of "Industry Academia Interaction : A Collaborative Quality Enhancement approach in the context of UN SDG-9" was organized by the Internal Quality Cell Assurance (IQAC), Swami Vivekanand Subharti University, Meerut. Dr. Neetu Panwar, Director of IQAC, commenced the programme by giving a brief introduction of the programme of the esteemed speaker Prof. (Dr.) Manoj Kapil, Faculty of Engineering & Technology, Swami Vivekanand Subharti University, Meerut and all the participants.

The welcome note of the programme was presented by Dr. Neetu Panwar, Director IQAC. Our Eminent speaker started by defining the various features of Sustainable Development Goal 9 which articulates: building resilient infrastructure, promoting inclusive & sustainable industrialization & fostering innovation. He discussed different key benefits of Industry- Academia Interaction through knowledge exchange with practical insights from industry and research findings from academia & fosters continuous learning, innovation, and problem- solving. Another key factor which he further mentioned was the applied research and development which helps to accelerate the translation of research outcomes into tangible products and solutions. The last factor was the workforce development which aligns the educational programme with industry needs as it is important for the students to acquire skills to meet industry demands.

Furthermore, he emphasized on the issues and challenges in Industry Academia Interaction which stated as follows:

- i. Differing goals & priorities
- ii. Intellectual Property (IP) Rights
- iii. Communication & language barriers
- iv. Cultural and Organizational differences

v. Funding and Resource Constraints

vi. Sustainability and Long-term engagement

The strategies to foster collaboration were also indicated by him. The ways to conduct industry mentorship & internship program, collaborative funding initiatives, industry participation in curriculum development, knowledge sharing platforms, establishing joint research centers were also discussed. At the end, he concluded the session by stating the importance of industry academia interaction in achieving UN SDG-9 as it strengthens the growth of innovation, industrialization and infrastructure.

After the session, the participants discussed the issue from various points of the subject discussed. The suggestions from the house members are as follows:

- ◆ It was suggested that university should increase the duration of internship period for the students who required practical knowledge of their respective specialization.
- ◆ The idea of involvement of Industrial experts from outside the University to share their experience with our students was also brought up. Those who are interested may also be employed as Professors by Practice.
- ◆ it was also suggested that we can take advice from these Industry experts' in the development and designing of courses and curriculum to ensure that we are following the most recent developments in education
- ◆ It was proposed that the university should form a committee to examine the upcoming industrial skill requirements for our students, compare them to the current course offerings at the university, and then accordingly tie up with that particular industry for the purpose of training or an internship that can accomplish the requirements of our students.

Outcome of the Activity:

The outcome of organizing the Lecturette Series has completely fulfilled to:

- Inculcate the equitable quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities among students
- Benefit both the education as well as industrial sectors contributing to sustainable development.
- Collaborate leverages which strengthens innovation, industrialization and infrastructure development
